A Christian Theology Of Marriage

Weaving together theology, social science, and her experience as a wife and mother, Julie Hanlon Rubio answers this provocative and timely question. She explores the marriage liturgy, the New Testament and Christian tradition and then reflects on the ways Christian husbands and wives, fathers and mothers, and children can live out their ...

A Christian Theology of Marriage and Family: Rubio, Julie ...

Marriage serves as an analogue to, and a reflection of the electing love of God (however imperfect). Marriage exists because God loves Israel, in whom God also makes space for gentiles. This is God's counter word to the fear many couples experience; namely, the threat to the security of their own marriages from the "other".

A Christian theology of marriage - Jason Goroncy

The marriage of Christians is a sacrament by virtue of the spouses' baptisms. In other words, marriage is a living sign that truly communicates the love of Christ and the Church. The spouses' vows lived out in their daily commitment, and most specifically in their "one flesh" union, constitute this living sign. A
