I just bought an Rca RT2380bk home theater receiver from goodwill for 7 bucks...I just needed something cheap to run some surround speakers I got for free..I take it home, And plug it in, And the red standby light turns on, And when I press the power button it "clicks" as if it's on. And a fan sounds like it's running..But no display turns on in the front and if I press the power button again ...
