I have a Toshiba Projection TV Model No. 51H84. The color is fine, as are all connections, but there are vertical lines spaced every inch or so that really obscure the picture. Our repairman, in whom I have relatively little faith, advised we needed a new Main Board, and he identified the Part No.(NNN) NNN-NNNX.

I've a Toshiba 46H84 Projection TV.When I first turn on TV, I've vertical lines across screen, but it does get better after it warms up. But now it seems to take longer to clear up, also I've noticed after it clears up, I've what they use to call ghost lines, but I use Directv satellite so that never has created a problem before, and I've two other TV's on the same dish without any problems.
